

World History Syllabus

"We are what we repeatedly do. Excellence, then, is not an act, but a habit." –Aristotle

Course Overview

We will be studying over 10,000 years of human history, spanning the entirety of the globe. Through our study, we will learn what has taken place, why it took place, and both the short and long lasting effects of these events. We will gain a deeper understanding of the world in which we live today, by studying its past.
